When he first came he was commissioned to represent Pope Leo XIII. at the opening of the Columbian celebration last October. In the month of January he was appointed Apostolic Delegate for all the affairs of the church in this country.
"A Cardinal was not selected, because a Cardinal is never chosen for an office like this. The Cardinals are the Pope's counselors, the princes of hiscourt, and commonly reside in Rome. Occasionally a Cardinal may be sent on some extraordinary business, but this is very rare. Some of the Cardinals are permanent residents of other countries, like our own Cardinal Cibbs. Gibbons. These appointments are exceptional and they are commonly in-tended as a compliment to the country or individual. Mgr. Satolli is here simply to facilitate matters of church interest.

Of course, no schools, public or paro-chial, can make a man virtuous unless he chooses to be so. But parochial schools give him the most powerful of prayer, the sacrament, etc. We regard religion not merely as a pabulum for Sunday and holy days, but a union with God every day and all through the day. We do not believe that to be religious one must pray all the time, but that our acts should be done for the sake of God."

> Eyes are the most certain revealers of the criminal nature. Many an expert detective tells a criminal by just one glance-not at him, but from him. The criminal eye varies greatly in setting, but not so much in color. Some-times it is deeply placed in the head, as if it tried to hide, fearing the result of its own involuntary revelations. Sometimes it is bulgy, protrusive like a frog's, and heavy-lidded. Such eyes, taken in connection with some other signs, denote treachery, lechery, loquacity, mendacity and general cruelty, with just enough cowardice to prevent the criminal from doing murder, except insidiously, or through others.

Of the criminal eye there are many remarkable anecdotes. The murderer, Francesconi, had little about him to indicate the ferocity that ambushed in his breast. His forehead was high and smooth, his beard was plentiful. To most people he rendered himself rather most people he rendered himself rather companionable, by a certain cheap facetiousness that often masquerades as wit, and on account of this social quality Francesconi's conceit was tolerated, and his huge egotism did not
